IMPORTANT GOVERNMENT ORDERS

GENERAL SECRETARIAT

Sanctions the separation of the Veterinary and Live-Stock Sections from the Agricultural Department.

READ—

Government Order No. A. F. 1913-14—A. H. 178-43-2, dated 31st October 1944, appointing Dr. P. M. Narayanaswamy Naidu, B.Sc., L.V.P., Sc.D. (Ger.), F.F.A.S. (Fr.), Veterinary Research Officer, as Special Officer for Animal Husbandry for a period of six months.

Government Order No. A. F. 4536, dated 7th April 1945, placing Dr. Naidu, Special Officer, in charge of the additional duties of the Superintendent of Veterinary Services, consequent on the grant of leave to Mr. Manikaraj, permanent incumbent of the post, preparatory to retirement from 1st July 1945.

ORDER No. A. F. 5304-83—A. H. 178-43-5, DATED BANGALORE, THE 17TH MAY 1945.

At present, the Veterinary and Live-stock Sections form part of the Agricultural Department and they are placed in direct charge of a Superintendent, the general control and supervision being vested in the Director of Agriculture. Since the beginning of the war, development of agriculture and animal husbandry has assumed great importance and several schemes of expansion have been taken on hand and many are under the consideration of Government. In the postwar days also, it will be necessary to pursue a policy of intensive and systematic improvement and expansion in respect of these industries. The Special Officer appointed in the Government Order read above has been directed to study the present position of animal husbandry in the State on a regional basis and to submit to Government, within six months, a comprehensive five-year scheme of measures to be taken up for improvement of live-stock in the State. In order that the growing and pressing problems of both agriculture and animal husbandry may receive adequate attention and that the departmental activities may be carried on in an expeditious and efficient manner, Government consider that it is necessary to separate the Veterinary and Live-Stock Sections (Veterinary Section including Serum Institute, Poultry, Sheep Breeding, Amrithmahal, Bee-keeping, Fisheries, Dairying, etc.) from the Agricultural Department and place them in charge of an officer with the designation of Superintendent of Veterinary Services and Animal Husbandry who will be independent of the Director of Agriculture and will function with the Government. They are accordingly pleased to sanction the post of a Superintendent of Veterinary Services and Animal Husbandry on a pay of Rs. 500-50/2-750 in lieu of the existing post of Superintendent of Veterinary Services and to appoint Dr. Narayanaswamy Naidu, Veterinary Research Officer, who is now O.O.D. as Special Officer for Animal Husbandry, as Superintendent of Veterinary Services and Animal Husbandry, the new arrangement being given effect from 1st July 1945.

The Special Officer for Animal Husbandry has to submit the report of his special work within the stipulated period and also submit to Government through the Director of Agriculture necessary and complete proposals in the matter of separation of the Veterinary and Live-Stock Sections from the Agricultural Department early.

A separate notification will issue regarding the appointment of Dr. Narayanaswamy Naidu as Superintendent of Veterinary Services and Animal Husbandry.
